

Emma Broughton

Junior Research fellow, Ifri

Professional experience

03/2008-present: Ifri (French institute for international relations), Paris –Junior Research Fellow, Health & Environment programme.

Organisation of international seminars

- 2010: “Climate Negotiations in Cancún : Determinants for Change”, Taipei, Taiwan. As part of the “2010 International Summit on Climate Change and Low Carbon Metropolises”
- 2010: “Making norms work for the environment”, Ifri, France.
- 2009: “Communication is key! Best practices from the management of global health outbreaks”, Taipei, Taiwan.
- 2008: “Managing health and environmental risks and crises. Lessons from Europe and Asia”, Ifri, Bruxelles.
- Speakers: ministers in exercise, policy-makers, academics and civil society representatives, from ministries (France, Germany, Indonesia, Singapore, Japan), European institutions (European Commission) international organisations (UNDP, OECD, OIE), private sector firms, think-tanks (Iddri) and universities.

Publication of articles and reports

- Reports: “The Global Environment Facility. Managing the Transition”,¹ “Private sector management for global biodiversity governance” (ongoing).
- Articles and chapters: “Copenhagen. Le bilan et l’avenir”,² “La politique du climat en 2020: une Europe affaiblie dans une gouvernance mondiale fragmentée?”³

Coordination of the Health&Environment programme

- Management of the programme budget, management of the Health&Environment Reports collection (call for papers, editing, peer-review process), selection and management of interns (1 or 2 interns every 3 to 6 months)

12/2007-03/2008: Junior Research Fellow, CESIM (Center for international security and arms control studies), Paris

- Response to calls to tender. Winner of a call to tender for a one-year research project for the French ministry of Defence.
- Redaction of briefing papers for the Ministry of Defence and of a weekly newsletter on international security issues published on the CESIM’s website.

¹ E. Broughton, “The Global Environment Facility. Managing the Transition.”, Health&Environment Reports, n° 3, June 2009, <http://www.ifri.org/?page=detail-contribution&id=5375>

² E. Broughton, “Copenhagen. Le bilan et l’avenir”, Politique Etrangère, vol. 75, n° 2, Été 2010

³ E. Broughton, M. Créach, M. Fink, « La politique du climat en 2020 : une Europe affaiblie dans une gouvernance mondiale fragmentée ? », in L-M. Clouet, A. Marchetti (dir.), L’Union Européenne et le monde en 2020. Visions prospectives franco-allemandes », Presses Universitaires du Septentrion, Coll. « Espaces Politiques », Villeneuve-d’Asq, 2011 (à paraître).

06/2007-11/2007: Book review editor, MILLENNIUM Journal of International Studies, Londres
(Scientific journal of the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE))

Languages and IT

Languages

- French and English: bilingual
- Spanish: fluent
- Italian: good
- Chinese (Mandarin): basic knowledge

IT

Mac and PC, Pack Office (Word, Excel, Powerpoint, Access, Outlook)

Education

- 09/2006-09/2007: MSc International Relations, LSE (London School of Economics and Political Science), Londres. 2.1., 1st Class Honours dissertation
Relevant courses: International Security (Prof. Barry Buzan); Economic Diplomacy (Prof. Mathias Koenig-Archibugi); dissertation topic: "China in the global climate change negotiations."
- 09/2001-09/2005: BA European Studies and Spanish, Royal Holloway University of London. 1st Class Honours
- 09/2000-06/2001: Universidad Autónoma, Madrid (Année ERASMUS). 1st Class Honours
- 09/2000-06/2001: Diplôme of musical studies, ATLA, Paris. 1st Class Honours
- 09/1993-06/2000: Baccalaureate – international option. Lycée de Sèvres, Sèvres.

Interests

Music (10 years of conservatory, semi-professional vocal practice), travels (China, Tibet, Taiwan, Japan), sports (monofin, swimming, climbing), literature.