

Kim Cae-One

Chairman & CEO, National Research Council for Economics, Humanities and Social Sciences

Biography

Mr Kim is currently Chairman/CEO of National Research Council for Economics, Humanities and Social Sciences, Korea.

After his graduation from Law College of Seoul National University (1961), Mr Cae-One Kim majored in European economic integration at Université Libre de Bruxelles (MA and Ph. D, 1969).

As Prof. at Department of Economics of Seoul National University (1971-2004) and Dean of College of Social Sciences (1995-96), he taught on international economics including European integration and trade policy. He successively served as President of numerous Korean academic associations, especially International Economic Studies(1988-89), Information-Telecommunications Policy Studies (1995-97), Korea Economic Association (2000-01), EU Studies (1994-2004) and EUSA Asia-Pacific (2001-2004). He was also founding President (1988-91) and Chairman (1993-98) of Korea Information Strategy Development Institute (KISDI), Korea Monetary Board Member (1991-94) and Commissioner of Financial Supervisory Commission (1998-99) of Korea.

On his contribution to enhancing Korean-European academic relations, he was awarded of French Government Decoration, Légion d'Honneur (1990).

He wrote many books and articles on international economics, and Korean economy including International Economic Order (1986, Kor.), Economic Reforms in the Socialist World (1989, McMillan), Korean Economy at Turning Point (1996, Kor.), Economics of the EU (2004, Kor.), Conditions for the Successful Establishment of East Asian Economic Integration (2006, Kor), and EU's Common Commercial Policy and International Commercial Relations (2007, Kor).