

Manyuan Dong

Vice President, China Institute of International Studies

Mr. DONG Manyuan has been associated with China Institute of International Studies (CIIS) since 1987. He is a senior research fellow specialized in Middle East studies and ethnic issues. From 1993 to 1997, he served as Second Secretary in Chinese Embassy in Egypt. From 1999 to 2002, he was First Secretary and Director of the Political Affairs Office of Chinese Embassy in Turkey. He has ever been Director for Developing Countries Studies, Director for EU Studies, Director for International Strategic Studies at CIIS and Editor-in-chief of the CIIS Journal —International Studies. Mr. Dong graduated from English Department of Inner Mongolia Normal University, Huanghe University and Peking University in 1985, 1987 and 2007 respectively, getting a BA in English literature and a MA in International Relations. He has published many articles.

Selected Research Articles:

1. “The Positions and Influence of the Major Developing Countries”, The CIIS Blue Book on International Situation and China’s Foreign Affairs (2009/2010), World Affairs Press, 2010.
2. “Promoting the Development of Soft Power and Strengthening the Cultural Diplomacy”, International Studies, No.6, 2009.
3. “Strategic Impact of Developing Countries’ Differentiation”, International Studies, No.5, 2008.
4. “Hiz-bu-allah and It’s Role in the Middle East”, International Studies, No.6, 2007.
5. “Challenges Faced by the Islamic World and Trends for its Future Development”, International Studies, No.1, 2005.