

Prince Boadu

CEO and co-founder of MapTech Logistics Limited

Prince Boadu is the CEO and co-founder of MapTech Logistics Limited. His company leverages the power of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) to solve business problems by developing and deploying GIS based applications. Prior to founding MapTech Logistics, he founded EVOLV.Africa; a non-profit that empowers the youth with entrepreneurship and leadership skills. To date, his NGO has reached close to 1,000 youth through seminars, conferences and workshops. Prince holds an MBA in Logistics & Supply Chain Management from KNUST-Kumasi. He has worked as Logistics and Supply Chain Analyst for Clean Team Ghana, is founding curator of TEDxKNUST, a World Economic Forum (WEF) Global Shaper (Kumasi Hub), and recently named Future of Ghana Magazine 30 under 30 emerging Ghanaians to watch. Prince served as a speaker of the just-ended Atlantic Dialogues in Morocco as one of 40 named Emerging Leaders from four continents across the Atlantic Basin—an initiative of the German Marshall Fund of the United States and the OCP Policy Center of Morocco. He is an active member of the GhanaThink Foundation.
