

Yide Qiao

Vice-président et secrétaire général de la Shanghai Development Research Foundation (SDRF)

Yide Qiao is Vice Chairman & Secretary General of Shanghai Development Research Foundation (SDRF), Outside Expert for International Finance and Economy at Ministry of Finance.

Mr. Qiao was enrolled into Kennedy School of Government at Harvard in 1985. After graduation, he entered Harvard Institute for International Development and did research work. In 1995, he returned China as Chief Representative and Managing Director of New York Life until May, 2003. Then he entered Shanghai Development Research Foundation as responsible for the daily work, a position he still holds today.

Yide Qiao is an independent director of Shanghai AJ Corporation now.

Prior to study in the States, he conducted a research at Institute of World Economy, Shanghai Academy of Social Sciences as its Assistant Director.

Research fields: Macroeconomics and International Finance.

He is a main author of the following books or research reports:

Chinese Economy: The Next 30 Years (2011)

The Reform of the International Monetary System: Past, Present and Future (2013)

Rethinking the International Monetary System — 70 Years after the Bretton Woods Conference (2014)

Global Financial Governance: Challenges, Goals and Reforms (2016)

Global Financial Imbalance : Implications, Impacts and Countermeasures (2017)

Changes of Pattern in Global Finance and China Integration into Global Financial System (2018)

China's Integration into Global Financial System and its Impact on the Rest of the World (2019)

Great Changes in Global Finance (2021)

Moreover, Yide Qiao also published a large number of papers and articles in the International Economic Review, Comparative Studies, China Business News, Financial Times (Chinese version) and other media.