

Daniela Lulache

Chief Executive Officer, SN Nuclearelectrica SA

Daniela Lulache is economist by profession, having graduated from Bucharest Academy of Economic Studies in 1993. She continued to improve her expertise in economics by earning diplomas in corporate finance and restructuring, structured financial products, brokerage, and strategic management, management of change and principles of communication.

Daniela Lulache held strategic top management positions over the years in both private and state-owned sectors that required high level expertise in financial management due to their inherent complexity.

Before being recruited for the position of General Manager of Nuclearelectrica in 2013, Daniela Lulache occupied the position of Counselor of the Vice-Governor of the National Bank of Romania with responsibilities in structuring the contingency plan in case of commercial banks default while previously to this position she was General Manager and President of the Board of Directors of Fondul Proprietatea (Property Fund), managing the entire activity of the Fund (Euro 4 bill. investment fund) including startup, establishment of corporate structure and corporate governance, investment strategy design and implementation, portfolio management.

In addition, Daniela Lulache has a long and rich experience in banking and financial consulting sectors, holding throughout the years important management positions.

In May of 2013, Daniela Lulache was recruited as Chief Executive Officer of Nuclearelectrica (the only nuclear energy producer in Romania) as part of the Government's strategy to apply corporate governance to state-owned companies.