

Juan Gallardo

Chairman of Grupo Azucarero México (Sugar Mills) and of GEUSA now GEPP

Bachelor's degree in Escuela Libre de Derecho in Mexico City (Law School)

1975–1982 - Executive Vicepresident International and Investing Banking, Multibanco Comermex (Mexico's third largest bank)

1982-1986 - President Industrial Minera México (México's largest mining company)

1992–2002 - CEO COECE Mexico's Trade Coalition for NAFTA and Free Trade agreements

1986 - To date

- Chairman of Grupo Azucarero México (Sugar Mills)
- Chairman of GEUSA now GEPP (México's consolidated Pepsicola bottling group)
-

Membership Boards:

- ✓ Caterpillar Inc.
- ✓ Lafarge.
- ✓ Santander Mexico.
- ✓ International Advisory Council of BOMBARDIER
- ✓ Rabobank

Associations:

- ✓ Consejo Mexicano de Negocios, A.C (Mexican Business Roundtable)
- ✓ Consejo Empresarial de América Latina (Business Council of Latin America)

French award in 2011: "The Legion of Honor"

Juan Gallardo is married to Gela Larrea and has two children, Gela Lorena and Juan Ignacio Gallardo Larrea both living in Mexico.