

Zouhair Mohammed El Aoufir

CEO of Moroccan Airports Authority (ONDA)

Zouhair Mohammed EL AOUFIR has been appointed by His Majesty The King of Morocco as CEO of Moroccan Airports Authority (ONDA) since January 2014.

Holding a master degree in “Production and Aeronautic maintenance” from the High Institute of Aerospace Engineering (ENSICA, Toulouse – 1990), Zouhair Mohammed EL AOUFIR started his first steps in the engineering field by graduating from the Mohammedia Engineering School (EMI-Rabat – 1987)

Zouhair Mohammed EL AOUFIR has acquired a rich experience along his career in the airline field:

- 2009 to 2014: Senior Vice President of Royal Air Maroc including different executive positions within the company mainly in sales development, maintenance and services.
- 2004-2009 : Chief Executive Officer of Atlas Blue, a low cost subsidiary of Royal Air Maroc
- 2000-2004: Managing Director of Air Senegal International, a subsidiary of Royal Air Maroc based in Dakar.

Zouhair Mohammed ELAOUFIR embarked on his career in Royal Air Maroc; the Moroccan flag carrier, through different challenges among which the major quest was overcoming the severe international airlines crisis.