

Saïd Mouline

CEO, Moroccan Agency for Energy Efficiency, AMEE

Born in 1963 in Rabat, Morocco, Saïd Mouline is an engineer specialist in the energy and environmental questions. Graduate from the Institut National Polytechnique (Grenoble, France) and University of Pennsylvania (Philadelphia, PA).

He was President of the Energy, Climate and Green Economy Commission at the General Confederation of the Moroccan Companies (CGEM). He was advisor to the President of OCP, the world leading Phosphate Company for a sustainable development policy.

He worked in the past within the Cabinet of the Minister of Energy and Mines and counselled various national and international organizations like the Mohammed VI Foundation for Environmental protection, BMCE Bank, WLPGA, World Bank, IFC, GiZ, KfW and UNDP. He was also Head of the Public Private Partnerships at COP 22 committee. He is currently CEO of the Moroccan Agency for Energy Efficiency (AMEE). He was also President of MEDENER, the Mediterranean Association of National Agencies for Energy Management.