

Ashoka Mody

Charles and Marie Robertson Visiting Professor in International Economic Policy at the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University

Ashoka Mody is Charles and Marie Robertson Visiting Professor in International Economic Policy at the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University. He is the author of EuroTragedy: A Drama in Nine Acts.

Previously, he was Deputy Director in the International Monetary Fund's Research and European Departments. At the IMF, he was responsible for the Article IV consultations with Germany, Ireland, Switzerland, and Hungary, and also for the design of Ireland's financial rescue program. Earlier, at the World Bank, his management positions included those in Project Finance and Guarantees and in the Prospects Group, where he coordinated and was principal author of the Global Development Finance Report of 2001. He has advised governments worldwide on developmental and financial projects and policies, while writing extensively for policy and scholarly audiences.

Mody has been a Member of Staff at AT&T's Bell Laboratories, a Research Associate at the Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, and a Visiting Professor at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School. He is a non-resident fellow at the Center for Financial Studies, Frankfurt. He received his Ph.D. in Economics from Boston University.

His academic research, motivated by and drawing closely on his policy responsibilities, has focused on international finance and political economy. His recent research has been on the European Union, especially on the history of the eurozone and its economic and political crisis. Earlier, he was a leading scholar on emerging markets' access to foreign capital, as well as the potential of such capital to enhance investment and growth. In these contexts, wrote on the politics of reforming the financial sector and public finances. Even earlier, his research dealt with benchmarking emerging markets' competitiveness and their ability to "learn" through international linkages. His papers have appeared in such journals as American Economic Review, Journal of International Economics, Economic Journal, Journal of Monetary Economics, Economic Policy, Journal of Development Economics, Journal of International Money and Finance, the Canadian Journal of Economics, Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization, and Management Science.

Education

B.Tech. Electrical Engineering (Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, 1973-1978)

M.Phil. Applied Economics (Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, degree awarded by Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, 1979)

Ph.D. Economics (Boston University, 1983-1986)

Executive Development Program (Harvard Business School, 1998)