

Josep Borrell Fontelles

High Representative of the European Union
Vice-President of the European Commission

2019-present

High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy/VicePresident of the Commission for a Stronger Europe in the World

2018-2019 2013-2016

Minister of Foreign Affairs, the European Union and Cooperation, Spain
Jean Monnet Chair of European Economic Integration, Complutense University of Madrid

2010-2012

President of the European University Institute, Florence

2007-2009

Member of the European Parliament, Chair of the Committee on Development

2004-2007

President of the European Parliament

1986-2003

Member of the Parliament of Spain

1991-1996

Minister of Public works, Transport, Telecommunications and the Environment, Spain

1984-1991

State Secretary for Treasury, Spain

1982-1984

Secretary-General for Budget and Public Expenditure, Spain

1972-1982

Mathematics Professor, Higher Technical School of Aeronautical Engineering and Complutense University of Madrid

EDUCATION

- Bachelor's Degree in Aeronautical Engineering, Polytechnic University of Madrid
- Bachelor's Degree and Doctorate in Economic Science, Complutense University of Madrid
- Master's degree in Oil Industry Economics and Technology, French Institute of Petroleum, Paris
- Master's Degree in Applied Mathematics (Operations Research), Stanford University, California