

Alexandre Medvedowsky

Chairman of the Board of Directors of ESL & Network Holding
President of ESL & Network France, Partner

Alexandre Medvedowsky is a graduate of the IEP (Institute of Political Studies) in Paris, holder of a DEA (Diploma of Advanced Studies) in Macroeconomics (Paris 1) and a former student of the Ecole Nationale d'Administration (National School of Administration) (Denis Diderot Class, 1984-1986).

He has been a magistrate of the Council of State since 1986 and from 1990 to 1992 served in the cabinet of Laurent Fabius, President of the National Assembly at that time.

From 1998 to 2001 he was an associate professor at the University of Aix-Marseille III, and he taught at the IEP in Paris until 2006. He was a councillor of the Bouches-du-Rhône from 1998 to March 2015.

He was named a Councillor of State in July 2001 and joined ESL & Network Holding that same year, serving on the Board of Directors. In 2005, he was named President of ESL & Network France.

On 1 January, 2013, he was named Chairman of the Board of Directors.

He was elected president of SYNFIE, the French syndicate for economic intelligence, in May 2014.