Since its first edition in 2008, the WPC's mission has been to reflect upon and to come up with solutions to the constant upheavals of today's world and to create lasting bonds between the participants. This international conference gives a voice to political, economic, academic and media players from over the five continents – from major powers to medium and small countries, including emerging countries, thus ensuring a diversity and plurality of debates. Mission of the WPC

Founded in 2008, the World Policy Conference (WPC) is dedicated to helping promote a world that is more open, more prosperous and fairer. This requires an unrelenting effort, to understand the actual forces at play and the interactions between them, as well as to explore non-aggressive ways of adapting how States connect with each other at all levels, while respecting the culture and fundamental interests of each nation.

The annual meeting of the WPC is restricted in size so that participants can create lasting bonds with one another. It brings together leading figures from all five continents – political and business leaders, academics and journalists – in a spirit of tolerance that is the only one conducive to the pursuit of the common good. Beyond the participants, this meeting aims to help all populations affected in a time of constant upheaval.

APPRECIATIONS

2008 - 2022

"It is important to have access to a free, privately managed forum, during which people may express their views in their own name and not in the name of their job function, and where they should be prepared to share their ideas in order to imagine how the world could be governed in a more or less rational way."

Lionel Zinsou (2010)

"The WPC is very helpful because it concentrates, since the very beginning, on global governance - as the title suggests. We trust - and I trust, personally, that global governance is more important than ever in the present world, because we have so many dramatic structural changes. [...] You also have, or course, the new geopolitical challenges, including very unfortunately - terrorism. All of this creates an absolute need for improving global governance."

Jean-Claude Trichet (2015)

"The WPC plays an important role in making the leaderships better aware of the interdependences. Of course, the WPC is not attended by everyday, ordinary citizens; for that, there are other instruments of communication and common awareness-making. This is for the leaders of countries, of cultural movements, of international institutions, and I think it is a very useful exercise because, indeed, this is also an intellectual and a political contribution towards winning the temptation of isolationism."

Mario Monti (2015)

"Einstein said that the most serious force is the force of intellect. The WPC is the force of intellect embodied by its leader, its Chairman. Thierry de Montbrial knows how to find people. If you find people and you put intellect in one place, that produces a result which cannot be ignored."

Igor Yurgens (2015)

"I hope that the international dialogue on the organisation of our planet will continue, and I know that I can rely on the World Policy Conference to produce better ideas, better policies and to bring the debate forward. An excellent ten-year anniversary to the WPC: it serves a valuable purpose."

Emmanuel Macron (2017)

"It is an honour to be here and to attend an event with such important participants who are knowledgeable and experts in their domains. It also provides me the opportunity to show something I take pride in, namely the endeavour to reach peace and cooperation in the Balkans."

Edi Rama (2017)

"The World Policy Conference has become one of the most important events in the world of policy and international efforts."

Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman bin Jassim Al-Thani (2017)

"The WPC offers a great opportunity for development actors, political representatives, researchers and leaders to gather and exchange ideas on the current state of the world in order to find common grounds to ensure global peace, security and development."

Amadou Gon Coulibaly (2018)

"This is a forum focused on anticipating and shaping the future, rather than trying to hold back change. That perspective is refreshing, for those of us who experience the world from somewhere in the middle, not one of the poles."

Paul Kagame (2019)

"In some ways, I would say this is one of some of the best conferences that I have ever attended internationally. When I was sitting in government, I used to be a regular attendee of the Munich Security Conference which is organized with serving officials. Even though I had a platform I could speak on, it is very stereotyped, and the questions were never difficult because everyone was on the same mind, so the WPC is something quite extraordinary."

Mayankote Kelath Narayanan (2021)

"I would like to congratulate you on organizing this excellent World Policy Conference, which brings together so many prominent voices from all parts of the world, and this is probably the most important achievement, to bring together representatives of so many regions and countries."

Dmytro Kuleba (2022)

EDITION 2022

The fifteenth edition of the World Policy Conference (WPC) was held in Abu Dhabi from December 9 to 11, 2022. Like the previous ones, it brought together political and economic leaders, experts and opinion leaders who debated the global issues of the moment and global governance.

The meeting was opened with a welcoming address by the Founder and Executive Chairman of Ifri and the WPC, Thierry de Montbrial, and addresses by the Minister of State for International Cooperation of the United Arab Emirates, Reem Ibrahim Al Hashimy, the Archbishop of Constantinople - New Rome and Ecumenical Patriarch, His Holiness Bartholomew I, and the Chief Rabbi of France, Haïm Korsia.

Twenty-one plenary sessions

The plenary sessions were devoted to the challenges to global governance in areas such as geopolitics and geoeconomics in the Sahel and West Africa, the future of EU and European security after the Ukraine war, space governance, global governance and public health as well as food security.

Among the prominent speakers who contributed their insights were Hubert Védrine (Former Minister of Foreign Affairs of France), Maurice Gourdault-Montagne (Former Ambassador, former Permanent Under Secretary of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs), Romuald Wadagni (Senior Minister in charge of Economy and Finance of Benin), Mariam Al Mheiri (Minister of Climate Change and Environment of the United Arab Emirates), Roman Vassilenko (Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Kazakhstan), Michel Kazatchkine (Special Advisor to the World Health Organization Regional Office for Europe, Course Director at the Global Health Centre of the Graduate Institute for International Affairs and Development Studies in Geneva), Masood Ahmed (President of the Center for Global Development, former Director of the Middle East and Central Asia Department of the IMF), Peter Beyer (Member of the German Bundestag, former Coordinator of Transatlantic Cooperation of the Federal Government), Jean-Pierre Cabestan (Senior Researcher Emeritus at the French National Centre for Scientific Research (CNRS) attached to the French Research Institute on East Asia (IFRAE) of the National Institute of Oriental Languages and Civilisations), Kazuto Suzuki (Director of the Institute of Geoeconomics at International House of Japan).

Three workshops

The workshops focused on three main areas – Finance and Economy, Energy and Environment, and Africa – from a global governance perspective. The discussions were particularly constructive, with participants such as Serge Ekué (President of the West African Development Bank (BOAD)), John Lipsky (Former First Deputy Managing Director of the IMF), Narendra Taneja (Chairman of the Independent Energy Policy Institute in New Delhi, Founder President of World Energy Policy Summit), Lionel Zinsou (Former Prime Minister of Benin, Chairman of SouthBridge), Aminata Touré (Former Prime Minister of Senegal).

Lunch and dinner debates

Around high-level personalities such as Kevin Rudd (Australia's Ambassador to the United States, former Prime Minister of Australia) and Laurent Fabius (President of the French Constitutional Council, President of the COP 21, former Prime Minister of France), the lunch and dinner debates enabled numerous exchanges on topics such as the future of China after the 20th Congress of the National Chinese Communist Party, and the fight against the climate change.
